

---

To: Zhao Wang

---

From: Ken Gracey, Vice President

---

Date: March 31, 2005

---

RE: CONGRATULATIONS FOR WINNING OUR TODDLER ROBOT CODING CONTEST

---

Zhao Wang
122-15 25th RD Apartment #305
Flushing, NY 11354

Dear Zhao,

Parallax congratulates you for winning our Toddler robot coding contest. Your first place award receives $250.00.

What you achieved in this contest was quite a challenge. Writing microcontroller code for a walking robot requires a lot of creativity and critical thinking. Your code is a good example of how stride and tilt commands can be blended to create more fluid walking algorithms. Normally such coding skills are not well-developed by our customers until they are adults. Therefore, if you are the young student I believe you are then you have done an exceptional job.

Keep up your interests in microcontrollers, electronics and robotics.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Ken Gracey".

Vice President
Parallax, Inc.